

Barnard-Gous Scholarship for postgraduate studies in Poultry Science in 2022

The South African branch of the World's Poultry Science Association is pleased to announce our sponsorship of a scholarship award of R15 000 towards postgraduate study in a Poultry Science related area.

Named after two very influential members of the WPSA, Dr Deon Barnard and Prof Rob Gous, this award will be based on academic merit as well as interest of the candidate to pursue a career in the Poultry Industry in South Africa.

Applicants wishing to register for a postgraduate degree in Poultry Science in 2022 or those who have already started postgraduate studies but will continue in 2022 may also apply. Please fill in the attached form and e-mail to wpsasouthafrica@gmail.com for consideration by the committee.

Please attach an academic transcript.

Surname
First name
Qualification/degree currently registered for
Year of study
Institution/University
Contact number
E-mail address
Name, contact number & e-mail address of current or proposed supervisor

Please provide a short motivation of your interest in the Poultry Industry as a career choice

Motivation from proposed/current supervisor: